One, and only one is grammatically incorrect. You are to find, in each line, this wrong sentence, and draw a line under it. Work as rapidly as you - can. And remember, underline the incorrect sentence. If you are not certain which sentence is incorrect, guess. K 1. I wrote to him and her. He spoke to her and me. She stands better than I. Between you and I, it s not so. 2. To whom should it go, you or me? Who did they say was hurt? Who will the book be read by? I know whom he struck. 3. She is far ahead of me. He likes me but not them. I am older than him. You work as well as she. 4. That seems to be he. You and they must decide. Wo girls are all going. Does that apply to wo older boys? 5. Every girl took her seat. Each of us have one. Neither of them is right. Has any one lost his knife? The nature of the punctuation test can, again, bo inferred from the following sample material: Name Grade or Class Section DIRECTIONS--READ CAREFULLY: The sentences below lack all punctuation and capitalization except the capital at the beginning of each sentence and the period at the end. You are to supply all further punctuation marks and capitals, changing periods to interrogation marks or exclamation points where necessary. In many of the sentences more than one...
