Reviews

This publication is indeed gripping and intriguing. It is actually written in basic terms and not difficult to understand. I am just pleased to explain how here is the greatest publication we have read through during my own lifestyle and could be the best pdf for at any time.

Not illustrated. 1885 Excerpt: .by local causes the tidal wave travels at the rate of about 25 statute miles au hour between Saugor Lighthouse and Calcutta; but the rate of travel is much influenced at different seasons by the freshes and the direction of the wind, and also in different parts by the shape and capacity of the river channel. When uninfluenced by fresh-water discharge there is very little difference between the Height of high water at Calcutta and high water at Saugor, or between the heights of low water at these places; but during the rains high water at Calcutta is sometimes as much as 4 feet higher than high water at Saugor, and low water at Calcutta is sometimes 5 feet higher than low water at Saugor. The greatest range of tide occurs at Kulpee, where it is about 1 6 more than at either Saugor or Calcutta. K At certain seasons of the year there is that peculiar tidal action known as the boreit always occurs on the first rush of the flood tide. The only effect produced in the deep channel is a very marked undulation followed by a sudden rise of the water, but in the shallow parts of the river, as the wave rushes on, the up-stream side of it becomes almost perpendicular, the crest topples over and breaks, and an action is produced violent enough to do considerable damage to the river banks and new works, and to fill or upset any small...
